

AMERICAN-RUSSIAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF MINNESOTA (ARCCOM)

Yearly meeting of ARCCoM

Board of Directors of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce of Minnesota (ARCCoM) invites its current and potential members and volunteers to join ARCCoM's yearly meeting on December 17th from 6 to 9 pm at The Museum of Russian Art (5500 Stevens Ave, Minneapolis, MN 55419).

ARCCoM yearly meeting will include presentations, concert, refreshments sponsored by the restaurant Samarkand and Kate Minochkina and the formal part including election of the officer and discussion of the plans for next year activities.

Attendance is free. RSVP and for questions, please, contact to Maryna Daw (email: MarynaDaw@gmail.com, tel: (763) 923-9999).

About ARCCoM

The American-Russian Chamber of Commerce of Minnesota (ARCCoM) is a nonprofit, organization which promotes trade and commerce between the United States, Russia, and Russian-speaking communities and organizations across the world.

ARCCoM's unique definition of trade and commerce includes educational services and exchanges, cultural and artistic tourism, and other initiatives mutually beneficial to Minnesota and Russian speaking businesses and organizations.

How you will benefit by joining ARCCoM

Joining ARCCoM may provide you various benefits including:

- Marketing your business in Minnesota, other States and internationally;
- Developing and enhancing your social and business skills and networks;
- Promoting your educational, cultural and business projects;
- Finding potential employer or employees for your business;
- Finding new friends, partners and customers