

Opportunities for Russian scientists and students at Arizona State University

Arizona State University (ASU) is the largest University in United States. It is included in top 100 universities in the world by several ratings. The University is also well known for its international programs and one of the leading universities in innovations.

ASU has its own initiative – RUSTEC, which is focused on assisting in development of collaborative projects in education, research and innovations with academic organizations and individual researchers, students in inventors in Russia:

<http://rustec.asu.edu/>

If you are interested in exploring opportunities for education and research or partnership in innovations at ASU, please, contact Anatoli Korkin via email:

Anatoli.Korkin@asu.edu